

Transportation Research Industry Partners Workshop

Sponsored/Hosted by the Great Lakes
Transportation Enterprise Institute (GLTEI)

Guide the creation of transportation research and development partnerships in Southeastern Wisconsin.

PRELIMINARY AGENDA:

- Executive Briefings on university & industry transportation research & development
- Working sessions to develop and refine emerging focus areas such as:
 - Transportation Infrastructure Technology
 - Vehicle Safety Systems
 - Transportation Operations and Management
 - Other emerging focus areas
- Identifying primary opportunities and next steps

Thursday, March 4, 2010

10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Traffic & Parking Control Co., Inc.

5100 W. Brown Deer Road

Brown Deer, WI 53223

RSVP by February 15, 2010 to Christine Merritt:

(262) 649-5108, chrism@tapconet.com

Lunch provided.

The Great Lakes Transportation Enterprise Institute (GLTEI) is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting safe, efficient, and cost-effective transportation in Wisconsin and the Great Lakes region through innovative research and development. GLTEI's goal is to develop a top tier organization that can successfully collaborate nationally and internationally by leveraging the collective strengths of Wisconsin's public and private transportation sectors. We aim to create partnerships for innovation, green technology and work force sustainability.